FROM THE CLUB

Today we welcome Sydney FC and in particular their coach Robert Stanton, who spent a long time at the club as a player.

The youthful Sydney FC has proved stern opposition over the course of season, and we expect more of the same today.

We have seen our own form dip recently, and look forward to a turnaround in what looms as a crunch game for season.

Come on UNITED!

MATCH PREVIEW

The finals are in reach for Sydney United 58 but competition newcomers Sydney FC will be4 out to make the Reds top five ambitions all the more difficult when they face off on Sunday.

United 58 were unlucky to come away from their Round 17 clash in Wollongong without a point and will need to bounce back quickly against a difficult young Sky Blues team.

The Reds have lacked the winning edge they displayed during their incredible run of victories from earlier in the season and have been let down by momentary lapses and poor finishing.

Panny Nikas as settled back into his spot in the line-up while striker Chris Payne will hope to be the source of goals United 58 are desperate for.

While the finals are out of reach for Sydney FC they will be hoping to continue the form which helped them upset APIA Leichhardt Tigers.

Games featuring the young Sky Blues are always ones for the fans and this clash shouldn't be any different.

MATCH PREVIEW

Sydney United 58 entertain Sydney FC on Sunday with the visiting Sky Blues aiming to continue their premiership assault.

Sydney enjoyed a dominant 4-0 win over APIA Leichhardt a fortnight ago to cement their credentials as premiership contenders and have been playing some of the finest football in the competition over the past month.

Opponents Sydney United 58 are back in contention for a top five spot after a 4-1 victory over Wollongong Wolves in round seventeen but will need to recapture the form shown earlier in the season to match the Sky Blues on Sunday.

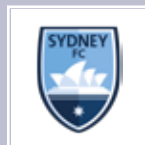

The visitors will have first grade coach Rob Stanton at the helm following David Zdrilic's departure to German outfit RB Leipzig.
