Sydney United 58 would like to welcome the Wollongong Wolves players, staff and spectators to our spiritual and historical ground, Sydney United Sports Centre at Edensor Park for our second home fixture of the 2019 National Premier Leagues NSW Men's season.

It's been a good start by the team recording a draw in our first match before defeating Blacktown City at Lily Homes Stadium thanks to a fantastic goal from Matt Sim.

The club would like to welcome Joshua Macdonald who was signed on from the Central Coast Mariners.

He made his debut for the club last Sunday and we hope he can hit the ground running with his new colours.

The club would like to thank all its valued sponsors as well as its fans for assisting with the team's progress in the NPL NSW Men's competition, your support is invaluable.

Good luck to all teams and let's hope our boys can get those three precious points in keeping our 100% record in tact!

MATCH PREVIEW

Sydney United 58 will be hoping to end Wollongong's rampaging start to the season when the two sides go head to head this Sunday.

Fourth placed United 58 have had a solid start to the season to remain undefeated with a draw and a win from their opening two games. Victory against Wollongong could be the statement victory which really kicks Miro Vlastelica's side into gear.

Last round they snatched a narrow 1-0 win against Blacktown City thanks to a brilliant Matt Sim free-kick.

Shot stopper Thomas Manos has been in sterling form and has kept two clean-sheets. Assisted by the defensive pairing of Yianni Fragogiannis and Petar Markovic, the Reds have assembled a tight defence with the club also expecting Adrian Vlastelica to the fold.

Josh Macdonald made his debut for the Reds coming off the bench last week and he will look towards a start while Patrick Antelmi added some attacking power against his former club and will hope he can repeat the same effort against another ex-Club of his.

For Wollongong their two wins from as many games has given new boss Luke Wilkshire the perfect start to his senior coaching career.

However, The Wolves face their biggest test yet this week.

English striker Thomas James has proven to be a shrewd signing for Wilkshire and last week's incredible hat-trick against APIA proved what he is capable of.

James is sure to tie the United 58 defence in knots this week and he could be on the scoresheet again if they're not careful.

Japanese import Takeru Okada has also been a strong contributor for the South Coast side pulling the strings in midfield.

Nick Littler has also been solid in the Wolves back-line and he is hoping he can further tighten things up against United 58.

Look out for former Wanderer Lachlan Scott to do some damage as the young striker goes in search for his maiden goal for 2019.

Wollongong has shot out of the gates to start the season but Sunday's clash could be a match which proves if they are the real deal.

1ST GRADE REVIEWS

Blacktown City 0 v Sydney United 58 FC 1

Goalkeeper Thomas Manos saved the day for Sydney United 58 in their National Premier Leagues NSW Mens match away to Blacktown City at Lily Homes Stadium won by a wonder-striker Matthew Sim free-kick.

Manos made three saves in the closing stages to deny City a point after a sublime curling dead ball from Sim secured the spoils.

Patrick Antelmi, the former City player, almost returned to haunt his former club in the opening moments only for gloveman Tristan Prendergast to turn the ball away.

City initially responded by mounting pressure on their rivals however goal scoring opportunities were a rare commodity as the match bogged down in midfield and became a battle of attrition.

Neither side was at it's best in a lethargic opening opening half and it was no surprise the teams hit the sheds still locked in stalemate.

It wasn't until the second period the game sprang to life and an early free-kick on the edge of the box was the catalyst.

Sim placed the ball and curled a left-footed shot teasingly up into Prendergast's left hand corner that gifted all three points to Miro Vlastelica's men in a match which also saw the debut of former Central Coast Mariner Josh Macdonald.

APIA Leichhardt Tigers 0 v Wollongong Wolves 3

APIA Leichhardt Tigers fell to their first defeat of the season on Sunday afternoon as Wollongong Wolves' Englishman Thomas James ran rampant on a slick surface at Lambert Park hitting a hat-trick with a 3-0 victory.

The hosts started slowly, and were ultimately undone by individual mistakes which were duly punished by a striker in form.

James opened the scoring midway through the first half, before adding a second and a third to complete his hat trick with twenty minutes remaining.

APIA pushed in the closing stages but couldn't apply a finishing touch to encouraging build-up work, and are left with work to do at the end of the second week of the season.

It's been a promising start for Luke Wilkshire's troops who after two rounds have been the talk of the league hoping that they can further their victories with a tricky away trip to Sydney United 58 in round 3.

U20'S MATCH PREVIEW

Sydney United 58 host Wollongong Wolves for the first time since their meeting in the first week of the finals last season.

United blew Wollongong away at Lambert Park in 2018, with a 3-0 win in the elimination finals.

Both teams come into this match in decidedly different form, with United beaten 4-1 by Blacktown City last weekend.

Wollongong's Round 2 match was washed out, robbing them of the opportunity to build on an impressive 2-0 opening round win over Manly United.

Still, they sit second behind Blacktown having played one game fewer, and a result here could put them top if Sydney Olympic can beat the leaders.
