MATCH PREVIEW

Hakoah Sydney City East will be out to force Sydney United 58 to succumb to their second shock defeat in as many weeks.

Bottom side Hakoah have done it tough this year but could still change the playoff equation if they win on Sunday at Hensley Athletic Field.

Both teams have struggled to score goals over the past few round so the match could be a defensive battle.

Ryan Norval has been in good form at Hakoah despite a season the club would rather forget. They will be hoping he can be a shining light against United.

United are battling their way through one of their worst slumps of the campaign and were stunned at home by 11th placed Sydney United.

The Reds will be hoping for a return for Glen Trifiro who missed the match against Sydney FC.

United has not scored a solitary goal in three league matches despite dominating in attack. They have just lacked the clinical touch required to score during this time.

Pressure is mounting on coach Miro Vlastelica to produce positive results and will be hoping the likes of Matt Sim, Peter Simonoski and Patrick Antelmi fire against the league cellar dwellers.

This game is sure to be a hard nosed battle and with so much riding on it then it really could be set for a few more twists and turns.

1ST GRADE REVIEWS

Hakoah Sydney City East – Manly United 1 at Hensley Athletic Field

Manly United FC have kept alive their hopes of playing finals' football after downing hosts Hakoah Sydney City East at Hensley Athletic Field by 2-1.

A goal in each half by Paul Dee's side did the trick against a gallant Hakoah as the hosts put an end to a four game losing to move only one point outside the top five.

It was another frustrating result for Hakoah who gifted Manly a 1-0 lead courtesy of a Steve Katsionis own goal before Dejan Pandurevic doubled the lead for the visitors midway through the second half.

Amaury Gauthier netted in the dying stages for the home side but it wasn't enough to stop Manly from taking home all three points.

Sydney United 58 0 – Sydney FC 2 at Sydney United Sports Centre

Sydney FC has heaped further woe on Sydney United 58 claiming a shock 2-1 win at Sydney United Sports Centre on Sunday.

It was the second upset win in as many weeks for the Young Sky Blues who secured their safety from relegation with the win.

Quick thinking from Benjamin Koop opened Sydney FC's account midway through the second half when he tapped home after a fumble from Thomas Manos before Jordan Swibel wrapped up the win in the dying stages with a clinical finish.

It was yet another frustrating defeat for United 58 as they slumped to their fifth consecutive league match without a win and their third without scoring a goal.

It could've easily gone the other way with the home side hitting the woodwork twice and creating numerous chances.

United hold onto fourth place despite the result but now hold only a one point lead over Marconi.

U20'S MATCH PREVIEW

Eleventh plays twelfth as Hakoah Sydney City East welcome Sydney United 58 to Hensley Athletic Field on Sunday afternoon.

Hakoah managed a 1-1 draw with Manly United in Round 19, Jay Hirschowitz opening the scoring in the first half only for Manly to equalise after the break.

Sydney United, for their part, head to Hensley with a seven-match losing streak in tow; a run they will be desperate to end.

There can be few better opportunities for the lowest-placed side in the competition than against the team directly above them.
