2022 - ROUND 09

CLUB WELCOME

Welcome back to to another fixture at the Sydney United Sports Centre.

It's been a struggle for Sydney United 58 FC to find their groove in the last few fixtures, so they're pulling out all the works and hoping they can deliver this game day against Sydney FC.

Two goals from Kyle Cimenti wasn't enough in their 4-2 defeat to Marconi last game day. But perhaps, giving him and his teammates confidence to start getting more goals on the scoreboard come Round 9.

All eyes on Sydney United this week to push themselves out of the unfamiliar territory and back to their winning ways.

MATCH PREVIEW

Sydney FC jumped back into top spot this week after a convincing victory over Sydney Olympic and with only one loss to their name heading into Round 9, they are the favourites as they head to Sydney United Sports Centre.

Jaiden Kucharski once again impressed for the youngsters in Round 8, alongside Zac Sapsford. The duo have been crucial to the team's success this season with a league-leading 21 goals for the side.

Despite leading in goals, they have conceded nearly as many, with 17 goals falling through the cracks of the young side.

Jimmy Van Weeren's men have been in great form even with the loss of a handful of players to Steve Corica's senior squad at the recent AFC Asian Champions League exploits.

United 58 have been a shadow of their former selves this year with 18 goals conceded this season and four losses from their past five matches.

New recruit Kyle Cimenti netted two against Marconi last week and has showed plenty of promise on the park, but the likes of Chris Payne and Patrick Antelmi will need to join him on the scoreboard if they have any hope of tsking down the young sky blues.

Then return of captain Adrian Vlastelica from injury this week will hopefully bring some stability and inspiration to the side.

Along with Vlastelica, the club is also hoping to bring in suspended Yianni Fragogiannis who missed out last week's match hopefully strengthening the club's back-line.

Will Sydney FC remain at the top of the ladder for another week or will Sydney United 58 find their magic and knock them off?

FIRST GRADE REVIEWS

Marconi Stallions FC 4 – Sydney United 58 FC 2 at Marconi Stadium

Marconi Stallions took all three points with a 4-2 victory over Sydney United 58 at Marconi Stadium on Saturday night in a six-goal thriller.

There was plenty of action and excitement at the Palace as a late comeback from the visitors had home fans on the edge of their seats, but the hosts' held on to secure the victory.

Charles Lokolingoy, Domenic Costanzo, Thomas James and Samuel Gulisano all added points to the scoreboard in the home side's second win of the season, the first since their opening victory over Sutherland Sharks in Round 1.

Two consolation goals to Kyle Cimenti got the visitors on the scoreboard late in the game but wasn't enough to change the result of the match.

The win, and successful attacking display, will give Marconi important momentum as they head into a make-up clash with Mt Druitt Town Rangers on Tuesday night.

While the performance will give Marconi positive momentum, the result will leave United 58 scratching their heads as they continue a lackluster run in the National Premier Leagues NSW Men's competition.

Sydney FC 3 – Sydney Olympic 1 at the Ilinden Sports Centre

Sydney FC continued its rich run of form in the National Premier Leagues NSW Men's competition as the young chargers took care of business defeating Sydney Olympic 3-1 at the Ilinden Sports Centre in a sparkling displaying of counter attacking football.

A stunning Jaiden Kucharski brace and assist for Zac Sapsford put a resolute Sydney Olympic to bed cancelling out substitute Marley Peterson's opener in the second half.

First-half substitute Peterson was on hand to fire in a scorching shot from the edge of the area to open the scoring in the 54th minute before Sapsford set up Kucharski in the 59' minute to restore parity.

Kucharski levelled the score with another trademark run to set up Sapsford for Sydney FC's third proved invaluable in wrapping up the game when drifting through what has been a tough Olympic defence with five minutes remaining.
